A unique holiday discovering the delectable flavours and tasty secrets of a region renowned worldwide for its unrivalled enogastonomy... Parma ham... Parmesan... Parma mmm!

Age-old gastronomic traditions and typical local delicacy products have made the Parma region a destination of pilgrimage for food-lovers world wide. Take a trip back in time to the "Antica Corte Pallavicina", an old fortified castle built in 1320 by the Pallavicino family that has inherited long standing traditions of culinary culture and typical local produce. Spend a day learning the secrets of true Parmeggiano Reggiano (the original Parmesan Cheese), see the rare "Nera Parmigiana" pigs, what they eat, where they graze; meet the cows descended from ancient local races; have fun with the rest of the farmyard animals and explore the kitchen gardens and enchanting orchard behind the castle. Explore the castle's cellars, used 700 years ago to season cheeses and hams and to age delicious wines for the most prestigious banquets. There's so much to see in a region so rich with history and tradition. Finally...
